TOO BUSY TO PRAY

"Of course, I believe in prayer. But I'm just too busy," somebody said the other day. I wonder if that doesn't sum up in one senteres what is wrong with our preswe want to pray, but we're just too huny.

Well, believe me, if there is no too busy, and you'd better straighten out your life.

But, I think that the problem with most of us is that we make prayer too formal a matter. We es young people say. Make a graduation number" of prayer.

that find never intended prayer to be so formal that we would not find time for it. It should be as natural and as easy, as breath-Deer David.

Just this week I have been reading of the life of General Stonewall Jackson, and the important place that prayer held in his life. Here to what he said about it: "When we take our meals, there to grace. When I take a drink of water, I always pause to lift up my heart to God in thanks and prayer. Whenever I drop a letter into the bex at the post office I send a polition along with it for Got's blessing upon its mission. and upon the person to whom it is most. When I break the seal upon a letter. I step to pray to God that He might prepare me for lis contents, and make it a measenger of good. And so, through the day.

Cannot we do the same? Why not try tomorrow to see how many chances you can find during the day for a brief, informal word of thankspiving or intercession. You, too, will find that is is possible to "pray without consider."

So if I may have the space I would like to point out that slow learners. mentally handicapped, physically roun for God in your life, you are bandloapped, and children needing remedial work in one or more subjects are not necessarily due to faulty teachers.

Most of it is due to the mental ability and mental age of the child think that we must take time out and it is also due to overcrowded from living, find a holy place, and, classrooms, lack of special equipment and materials, and lack of time in regular ciamrooms.

In Rethel we have approximately 576 chidren attending school, that is not counting physically handicapped or children out of school but still under 21 years of age. So if we have approximately 30 children including the ones mentioned above needing help, we have if my arithmetle is correct 516 children who are doing O. K. What can science possibly produce synthetically that can compare with the mouth-water-ing fragrance of fresh baked home-made bread?

There's a mellow old-fashlop-ed bouse on my street, and as I passed by the other day there walted from the kitchen an aroma that sped me back to "baking day" in my childhood home. Around to the backdoor I went to find my neighbor, "Grandma" Eastland, taking onves from her big oven and bilitering the tops. She made me take a warm loaf home. Made me, did I say?

I'm in favor, sure, of every labor and time saving device today's housewives can get. But I wonder sometimes if they themselves, modern and young in heart though they may be, don't often experience an aromatic nestalgia — especially when they're tending the pop-up transfer.

ATHU notice on the bulletin board stated that the post office would be closed on Thanksgiving Day. A man standing back of another in the office heard him mutter, "Thankful! For what?"

Let us be thankful for our homes. Our homes are places of shelter and comfort, places of refuse from this busy life.

Let us be thankful for our familles. Be thankful for someone 🔄 love and someone to return that love. Be thankful for some ne to care for and someone to teturn that care and concern. Be thank- "thanks-living" is better, ful for someone with whom to Raymond J. Hahn (North Carolina) chare both canchine and sorrow. Let us be thankful for sustenance-evidence of God's bounty and provision. God provides our food and raiment and other necessities of life.

Let us be thankful for our churches. They are temples of God, places where God's Word is preached, places where we can honor and worship Him.

PRAYER: Our Father, grant that we may sincerely give thanks this day. Help us to develop a spirit of thanksgiving for all the gifts of life which Thou dost so bountifully give unto us. In Christ's name we pray. Amen. Thought For The Day

- Mrs. Edith C. Abbott, Corres. . An interesting meeting on "Christmas Gifts'from the Kitchen" was held by the Woodstock Exten. sion Association at the home of Mrs. Cleo Billings Thursday with 16 women and one child present. This was in charge of the Foods Leader, Addelynn Mann, who demonstrated mading frostings and decorating cakes and cookies. She also showed various ways of using sweet bread dough, in making coffee rings, Santa Claus, butterflies, etc. In the afternoon, she demonstrated wrapping gifts of food for Christmas gifts.
